Published by Authority.

From Saturday January 22, to Tuesday January 25, 1791.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 5th of January, 1791,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by virtue of an Act passed in the last Session of Parliament, intituled, "An Act to continue for a limited Time "certain Provisions contained in an Act made in this "present Session of Parliament, intituled, An Act for "indemnifying all Persons who have been concerned "in advising or carrying into Execution certain "Orders of Council respecting the Importation "and Exportation of Corn and Grain, and also "certain Orders issued by the Governor-General of His Majesty's Colonies in America, "and for preventing Suits in consequence of the "same; and for making further Provisions relative "thereto, relating to the Importation of Corn and "Grain; and to authorize His Majesty to permit "the Exportation of Corn, Grain, Meal or Flour, "and to prohibit the Importation thereof on the low "Duties," His Majesty was pleased, by His Order in Council of the 13th of October last, among other Things, to direct, that if it should appear at any Time before the 28th Day of February, 1791, by the Average Price of British Rye, as the same should be published in the London Gazette by the Receiver of Corn Returns, from the Returns received by him, that the Average Price of such Rye should be under Thirty-two Shillings per Quarter, it should not be lawful to import into any Port of this Kingdom, at the End of Six Days after such Publication in the London Gazette, any Foreign Rye or Rye-Meal at the low Duties: And whereas by virtue of the said Order Rye is not now permitted to be imported into this Kingdom on the low Duties, as the Price thereof, on the Average of the Week ending November the 13th, 1790, had fallen under Thirty-two Shillings per Quarter: And whereas it appears that the Price of Rye has since considerably risen, in those Counties where this Sort of Corn is principally consumed by the Inhabitants thereof, and it is on that Account become expedient to allow the same to be imported on the low Duties; His Majesty doth therefore, by and with the Advice of His Privy Council, by virtue of the Powers vested in Him by the before-mentioned Act, hereby revoke so much of the said Order of the 13th of October last as relates to the Importation of Foreign Rye or Rye-Meal at the low Duties: And His Majesty's doth hereby order, with the Advice aforesaid, that it shall be lawful to import into any Port of this Kingdom any Foreign Rye or Rye-Meal at the low Duties, any Thing in the said Order of the 13th of October last contained to the contrary notwithstanding: And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary Directions herein accordingly. W. Fawkener.

Dublin-Caſtle, January 20, 1791.

THIS Day the Parliament having met, according to Prorogation, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the Houſe of Peers, and being ſeated on the Throne with the uſual Solemnity, the Honourable Henry Fane, Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod, was ſent with a Meſſage from his Excellency to the Houſe of Commons, ſignifying his Pleaſure that they ſhould immediately attend his Excellency in the Houſe of Peers: The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Excellency made the following Speech:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I Have ſincere Pleaſure in acquainting you, by the King's Command, that the Differences which had ariſen between His Majeſty and the Court of Spain have happily been brought to an amicable Termination. Copies of the Declarations exchanged between His Majeſty's Ambaſſador and the Miniſter of the Catholic King, and of the Convention which has been ſince concluded, will be laid before you.

Had the Honor of His Majeſty's Crown, and the Protection of the Rights and Intereſts of the Empire, involved His Kingdoms in the Calamities of War, the Zeal manifeſted by all His Subjects, and by none more than His loyal People of Ireland, had left Him no Doubt of the moſt vigorous and effectual Support. It is a Source of peculiar Satisfaction to His Majeſty, that thoſe Objects have been accompliſhed without any actual Interruption of the Bleſſings of Peace.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Officers to lay the National Accounts before you, fully relying upon your accuſtomed Zeal to provide for the Exigencies of the State, and the honorable Support of His Majeſty's Government.

I have alſo ordered an Account of the Extraordinary Expences of Government, which have been incurred during the Negotiation with Spain, to be laid before you; and I truſt you will find that the Confidence you repoſed in me has not been miſplaced.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

Your Diſpoſition to facilitate the Buſineſs of Commerce, and to conſult the Eaſe of the Merchants, will induce you to conſider, and, if poſſible, to accompliſh during this Seſſion, ſuch Regulations as may tend to ſimplify the Collection of the various Articles of the Public Revenue.

Your unremitted Care of the Agriculture, Trade, and Manufactures of this Kingdom, and particularly the Linen Manufacture, and your accuſtomed Liberality to the Proteſtant Charter-Schools, and other public Inſtitutions for charitable Purpoſes, make it unneceſſary for me to direct your Attention to thoſe Objects individually.

A more intimate Acquaintance with this Country has increaſed my Wiſhes for it's Welfare; and I have obſerved, with the ſincereſt Satisfaction, the Extenſion of her Agriculture, her riſing Trade and improving Manufactures. You may be aſſured of my Co-operation in every Meaſure that may conduce to thoſe important Purpoſes; and, whilſt I thus fulfil His Majeſty's Commands, I ſhall attain the higheſt Object of my Ambition if I can be inſtrumental in contributing to the Proſperity and Happineſs of Ireland.
